“Williamson Medical Center provides diverse learning opportunities and patient care experiences that would allow me to build a strong foundation to advance my professional growth and training as a new practitioner. One of the unique features is the flexibility of the program allowing the residents to tailor their individual learning experiences to gain further training in areas of interest while also building on their areas of weakness. The program is also built to help residents grow as well-rounded pharmacists through the teaching certificate and leadership longitudinal experience. Residents are also able to develop collaborative relationships through various opportunities to interact with physicians and other members of the healthcare team to help optimize pharmacotherapy. All of the pharmacy staff offer a welcoming and supportive learning environment for the residents. Residents are always encouraged to take initiatives to help improve operational pharmacy features and other aspects of patient care making them feel like valued team members. I truly feel grateful to be able to be part of the pharmacy team here at Williamson!
